Norms for the distribution of subsidised rice to the tribals

438. SHRI B. SATYANARAYAN REDDY: Will the Minister of FOOD AND CIVIL SUPPLIES be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government have laid down any norms for the distribution of subsidised rice to the tribals and whether these norms are being adhered to by the State Governments; and

(b) if so, what are the details of the norms laid down by Government and details of the alleged failure of the State Governments to adhere to these norms?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF FOOD AND CIVIL SUPPLIES (SHRI SUKH RAM): (a) and (b) Under the scheme for supply of wheat and rice at specially subsidised prices in ITDP areas and the tribal majority States, foodgrains are to be distributed to both tribals and non-tribals. The foodgrains issued by FCI to the State Governments/Union Territories under the scheme are to be distributed by the State Governments to the consumers at the end retail prices fixed by the Government of India. At present, the end retail price of common, fine and superfine varieties of rice are Rs. 219, Rs. 279 and Rs. 300 respectively per quintal and the end retail price of wheat is Rs. 179 per quintal. Government of Andhra Pradesh had been charging Rs. 200 per quintal for common rice since the implementation of this scheme upto 7-8-1986 against the then permissible ceiling of Rs. 185 per quintal. Government of West Bengal have fixed retail rates under the ITDP scheme of common, fine and superfine varieties of rice at Rs. 233, Rs. 289, and Rs. 310, respectively per quintal. The Government of Gujarat has rounded of the ITDP retail prices to Rs. 220 per quintal for common rice and Rs. 280 per quintal for fine variety rice involving hereby an increase of Rs. 1 per quintal. The State Government have been advised to follow the end retail prices of specially subsidised foodgrains fixed by the Government of India. Information in respect of other States is being collected.
